

Young Fathers of Central Florida targets young men under the age of 21 and is geared to give any young father the skills and confidence they need to provide a lifetime of love and caring for their children.

The organization – the ONLY one providing services for young fathers in Central Florida – provides counseling, workshops and mentoring in basic parenting skills. It also provides a place where young fathers can get the answers they need – from how to child-proof a home to how to avoid shaken-baby syndrome.

We all have our personal issues to deal with, and sometimes, we need to see a specialist to help assist us. There are no questions which are irrelevant or not important.

We all need a helping hand at some point in our lives.

Child Support Compliance

This focus is for noncustodial parents who cannot pay child support because of lack of employment. The purpose is to improve the collection of child support through father-friendly approaches that emphasize the prevention of arrearages, alternatives to jail and improved employment opportunities.
